Title: Bucket List
 Artist: PLEXIPHONES

For the many things in life you still absolutely want to do, "Bucket List" is both a perfect soundtrack and a bipolar blueprint. The PLEXIPHONES' new studio album has everything it takes to be the perfect alternative pop record: shallowness and depth. Love and pain. Excellent songs and themes that will either touch or hurt you. From a vote in favor of active euthanasia to a tribute to the queer movement, from love songs to almost sarcastic lullabies, from a profession of faith in fashionable sports to an addiction warning about excessive virtual reality consumption - everything that matters on "Bucket List" is here. Listening is more important than swearing! Now also on limited-edition vinyl!

Title: It's A Wonderful Lie (1996)

Artist: NON-FICTION

- for the first time on VINYL (1996 original release was only available on CD)
- Remaster 2024, mastered for vinyl
- printed insert with liner notes and many illustrations
- with Alan Tecchio (Hades, Watchtower) and Dan Lorenzo (Hades, Patriarchs In Black)
- The voice of Hades & Watchtower meets doomy US metal with a 70s groove

During a European tour by HADES, it became apparent that the band would soon be splitting up. Guitarist Dan Lorenzo formed Non-Fiction with Dan Nastasi (MUCKY PUP, DOG EAT DOG), who subsequently recorded an EP. However, the line-up carousel was to turn again and HADES and WATCHTOWER singer Alan Tecchio and bassist Kevin Bolembach (later SEVEN WITCHES, JACK FROST, among others) came on board. In 1991 the debut "Preface" was released on Grand Slamm Records, in Europe on Steamhammer/SPV. At the time, many fans of HADES and WATCHTOWER must have been surprised by the doom metal direction, while fans of this style remained unaware of it without the Internet. It is astonishing that certain trademarks of HADES can still be found in the music of NON-FICTION (see also the 1995 reunion album of HADES). In 1992, the second album "In The Know" was released, which is considered a fan favorite and was only released on CD at the time. Once again, the cover artwork is reminiscent of the art of Hipgnosis (Pink Floyd, UFO etc.), which also applies to "It's A Wonderful Lie", released in 1996. The band's third and final album is a little more experimental, but otherwise continues the familiar style. As Hades were active again at this time, the subject of non-fiction was regrettably shelved. Both HADES and WATCHTOWER (with Alan Tecchio) are - sporadically - active again today and quite a few fans hope that Non-Fiction will also make another appearance. The musical continuation, albeit a little more modern, is currently Dan Lorenzo's band PATRIARCHS IN BLACK, enjoying success in the USA.

Title: Unknown SoldierArtist: WAR MACHINE

-for the first time on CD (in 1986 the original version was only available on LP)

-remastered in 2024

-one of Neat Records' "late releases".

-with Steve White (Atom Power, Venom)

Terms like "forgotten gem" or "underrated album" are often used today, but in the case of WAR MACHINE from England, they fit like a glove! In 1986, not only was NWOBHM (New Wave Of British Heavy Metal) already history, but the Neat Records label, until then an important pioneer with Raven, Venom or Tygers Of Pan Tang, was weakening and losing influence internationally. In 1986, the attention of fans and journalists turned more to the USA, and speed/thrash metal also began to take off. A bad time for female-fronted power metal, whose strength lies in mid-tempo.

Already formed in 1983, Newcastle band WAR MACHINE released their first demo in 1984. The line-up included Steve White, who can be heard on both ATOMKRAFT demos from 1981 and 1983. The utterly hard-bitten but melodic heavy metal with Bernadette Mooney's vocals appealed to Neat Records, also based in Newcastle, so the debut album "Unknown Soldier" was recorded in the label's Impulse studio. The material fits in with traditional British heavy metal, but also features a few riffs that might have suited a thrash metal band. The LP was released in 1986 on Neat and also on Roadrunner Records (Holland). After another demo in 1988, War Machine went quiet. In the early Nineties, they appeared with several songs from the album on cheap CD compilations, the Neat Records catalog having been cannibalized during these years. "Unknown Soldier" itself appears for the first time on CD via Golden Core/ZYX. The booklet includes scans of Neat's "Lead Weight" promotional booklet of the time.

Title: Artform RevisitedArtist: LOUIS HAYES

NEA Jazz Master Louis Hayes certainly personifies the term "living history." Born in Detroit, Hayes packed up his drum set and caught a train east, arriving in New York City in 1956 to join the Horace Silver Quintet. In 1959 he joined the Cannonball Adderley band, finding himself, in his early 20s, at the nerve center of the jazz world. He would visit John Coltrane in his apartment and was to make several justly famous recordings with him. Over the next 60 years Hayes amassed a impressively great body of work, playing and recording with Oscar Peterson, Dexter Gordon, Grant Green, Kenny Burrell, Cedar Walton, Sonny Rollins, Woody Shaw and many more of the giants of modern music. His latest recording on Savant, Artform Revisited, may fondly recall some of Hayes' old friends, but it also stands on the summit of today's finest post bebop sessions. Surrounded by his recording band of choice, Hayes' vibrant and colorful drumming supports a carefully chosen set list. Two new compositions by Hayes are featured along with some Charlie Parker tunes, the John Lewis version of "Milestones" and the beautiful but seldom-heard Bobby Troup ballad, "You're Looking at Me." Through it all, Hayes proves himself not just a great drummer, but also a gifted and charismatic leader, inspiring his players to give their best and delivering performances born of his vast experience and the mutual respect of all those concerned.
